

Over the coming months, the West Coast Main Line is closed at Rugby for improvement work on selected weekend dates.

To ease your travel to/from London Euston at weekends, we are operating a new service from Birmingham International and Coventry to London Euston. With a journey time of just over two hours, it will provide a realistic alternative to our normal arrangements of replacement coaches to Northampton with a shuttle service through to Euston.

Using an alternative route through Warwickshire, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire, these services will be made up of two Super Voyager trains providing around 435 seats in total. Light refreshments will be available from the onboard shop, so why not enjoy a coffee and a pastry while passing through some of England's most beautiful countryside?

Please note, on most Saturdays the West Coast Main Line route to/from London Euston is not scheduled to close until 1000, so some trains will run right through to Euston before this time.

West Coast Replacement Shuttle services will run every hour except late evenings and full details of the timings are contained on the opposite page. It is expected that these services will be popular, so advance bookings are recommended through all the usual retail outlets.

On 16, 17, 23, 24, 25, 30 & 31 August, we will unfortunately not be able to run the replacement coach and train shuttle service via Northampton, however the West Coast Replacement Shuttle will run as timetabled. Other train operators services to/from London will be available from Scotland, the North West and the West Midlands.
